In 1517, Desiderius Erasmus wrote the following in a treatise entitled "Querela Pacis" (The Complaint of Peace):

> "We must look for peace by purging the very sources of war - false ambitions and evil desires. As long as individuals serve their own personal interests, the common good will suffer. Let them examine the self-evident fact that this world of ours is the Fatherland of the entire race."

The Peace March, Aid for Africa and other forms of care and concerns manifested by our society for those less fortunate have been a hallmark of our democracy. To the Class of 1987, I urge the same dedication. Whether this world will ever see war abolished, I must doubt. However, there is another peace which we tend to forget. That is the peace we must find in ourselves daily. It is in our hearts and minds but it must be nurtured and expressed. In dealing with our families and friends there are times where our personal interests must take a "back seat." If all of us do this within our own microism, then perhaps there is hope in our efforts to obliterate war and conflict.

JOHN B. SMITH

Trying to recapture our old class memories, my mind becomes cluttered with pleasant thoughts of our events. Staging the junior prom in the gym was just one of the many activities which will always linger in the corner of my mind. We have quite a lot to remember, a winning football team (who sported mohawks and crew cuts), the teacher appreciation assembly, the monster mash dance, incredible spirit week displays, and our tight friendships.

We paid a price for our success. We sold everything from magazines to candy, and from coupon books to frisbees.

Opening up computer match printouts, and eating Reese's peanutbutter cups (which I could not sell to anyone) still brings me the same stomach-jerking feelings. It is now time for me to put these thoughts in the back seat and drive into life. For these thoughts, like this book you're reading, are just memories, but memories can feel better than any tangible object.

We had a successful class. We will graduate and become doctors, lawyers, dreamers and even West Point graduates.

Good luck, '87. We made it.

Chris Voci '87

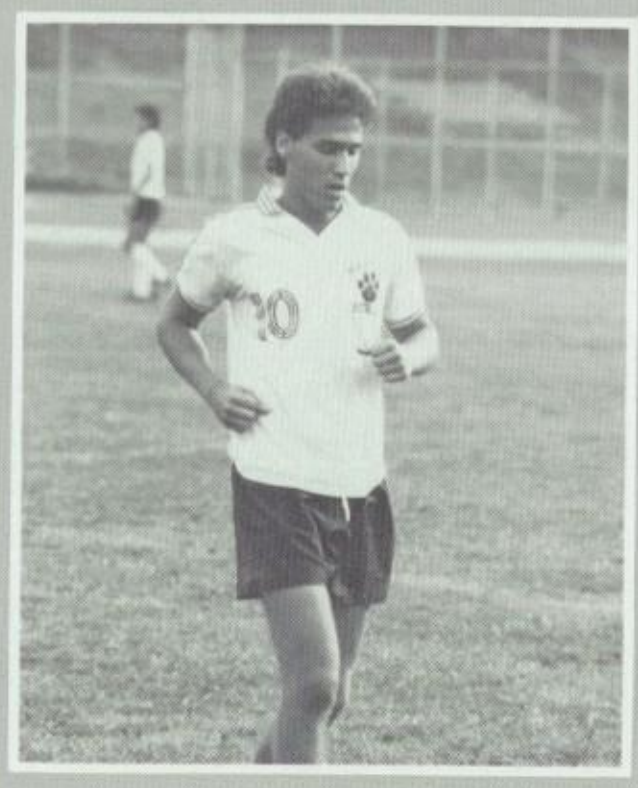
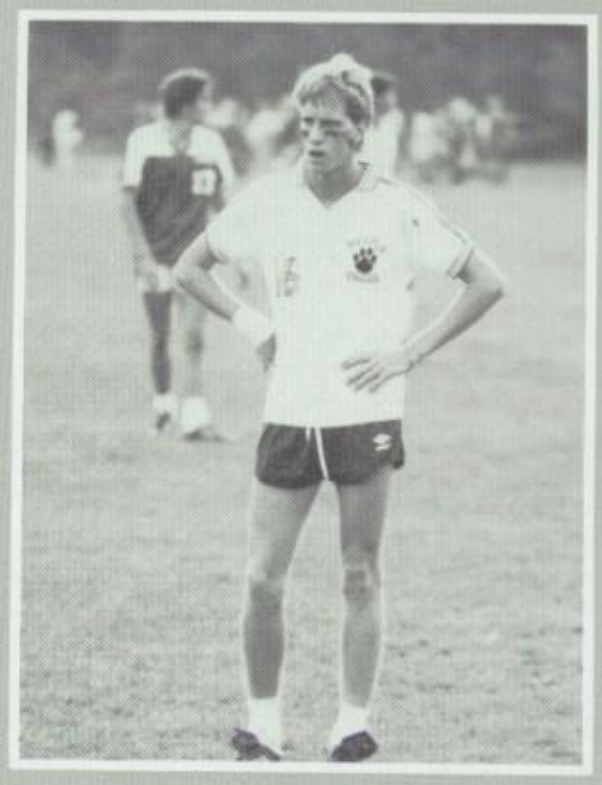
Forth Row: Kevin Hirt, Rick Burling, George Armington, Drew Schultz, Bruce Routzahn, Chris Hahn, Eric Skar.





Marple Newton's soccer team celebrated its silver anniversary by making the PIAA playoffs for the first time, by having the team's best record ever (13-4-4), and by winning the Division II Championship with a record of (8-1-4).

The Tigers were unbeaten until late in the season while scoring 23 goals in league competition while allowing just 13.

Tiger goalie Bruce Routzahn, a junior, had eight shutouts. In front of him were steller defenders junior stopperback Tim Schmidt and sophomore Erik Skar. Also anchoring down the defense were Rob Capaldi, Rick Burling, Chris Hahn and Kevin Hirt.

Seniors Doug Puchalla (13 goals) and Steve Conley (5 goals) were the goal scoring treats while Senior Todd Rumaner was the team playmaker with nine assists. Also giving depth to the team were: Drew Benfer, John McHale, Jeff Merten, Jim Regnier, Glenn Stout, George Armington, Matt Jasudowich, Michael Mulqueen, Marvel Park, Doug Schmidt, Doug Skarada, and David Tebbens.

The Coaches and Boosters rate the season a successful one. "It's a good year for the seniors to remember," Nagle said, "and for those coming back next year, this is something to build on."

Captain: Matt Frankel

This was a building year for the Fighting Tiger Golf Team. Graduation and the loss of co-capt. David Vogrin to a transfer made this a transition season. Captain Matt Frankel, and seniors Tom Corner and a new start Chuck Ringwalt gave the team leadership up front in the line-up. While juniors: Rob Cohen, David Greenstein, Aaron Nolan and Sophmores: Jeff Lazarus and Chris Litwinko gained enough varsity experience to earn their letter. In addition, Keith Burns, Andrew Kerr, Curt Starter and Rob Tobin gained valuable varsity playing time.

FOOTBALL

The "Football Family" finished the season in great style, winning our last four games and shutting out Conestoga on Thanksgiving morning. The seniors did a fine job finishing with a winning record. Eric Ciarrocchi, Mike DiCandilo and Jeff DiLullo, our co-captains, did very well and greatly contributed to our success. Juniors Joe Barr, Jim Dengler, Ron Mostichelli, Preston Scott and Ian Wolfson played very well in '86 and form a strong nucleus for 1987.

Jeff - is that a SMILE?

A Senior class meeting - need we say more!

Are we having fun yet?

He's "MAGIC"

Thank God for 4 day weekends.

"Pucker up!"

"By golly you ARE right!"

They actually RAN our class!

"HELP"

"Did I need this!"

"Hmmmm, not bad!"

Help us homeless!

"I like your shirt!"

Cheese!

Is this ALL the MN had to offer?

Congratulations to our Tara Jill
An M-N graduate-What a Thrill!

Time to shun the adolescent role
You're an adult! You're in control!!

When you were young,
We worried about you being stung.

Worried about what the world would do
We kept the ugly and evil away from you.

But alas we are very proud of a young lady who stands above the crowd

Life from now on will be your decision'
But we will always be a part of your vision

But Remember before your wings unfurl
You're always be our little girl

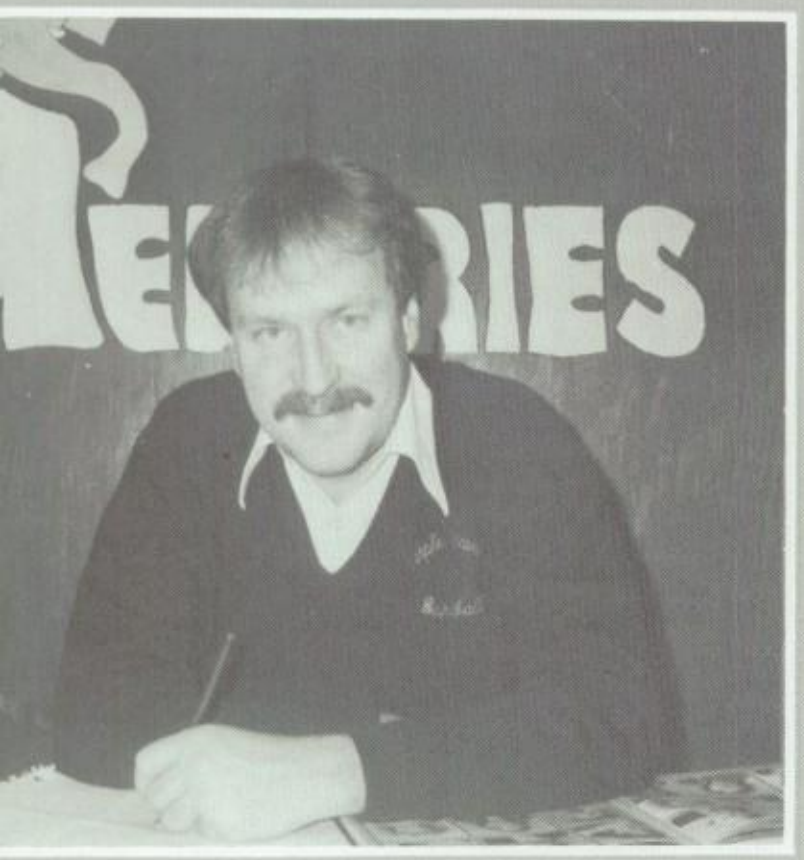
'87



Vince Clarke

This is my tenth edition of Memories. Each book seems to be more fun than the last and we hope that we are getting better each year. Our sincere thanks to all the cooperative and supportive souls here at M.N.

Congratulations to The Class of '87:

Stay healthy, enjoy life, and be nice to each other!

footsteps in an empty hallway
bring back a burst of bittersweet memories-images of
friendship and laughter,
hopes and disappointments,
blackboard daydreams.
turn a corner to a different world
but remember all that came and went-
the swish of crinolin skirts on prom night,
the hours of determination and frustration,
the smell of football games in November night air.
picture in the mind
moments forever unforgotten-
the sound of jubilant voices raised in unison,
the familiar faces of friends,
the tears of joy and sorrow shed
as we said
goodbye.
